PERSONAL STATEMENT

I'm a multilingual (Italian, English [C2], French [B2], Russian [A2]) Organic Growth leader with 20+ years driving SEO strategy, team leadership, and measurable acquisition growth across global brands and high-growth environments.

Currently leading Technical SEO at L'Oréal across 300+ websites in 47 markets, I combine deep technical expertise with a strategic perspective on content, measurement, and emerging channels — including Generative Engine Optimisation (GEO) and LLM-driven search visibility. I work closely with engineering teams to ship at scale and partner across functions to translate SEO insights into business outcomes.

My track record spans B2C and B2B contexts, in-house and agency environments, and includes building and developing high-performing organic teams while maintaining rigorous accountability to growth metrics.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCES

Jan '22 – to date

Global Head of Technical SEO

L'Oréal – France

Managing a team of 3 and reporting to the Digital Excellence Director, my core goal is to ensure a portfolio of 300+ websites is technically sound for both Search Engines and LLMs. My responsibilities also encompass the need to effectively initiate cooperative discussions around topics like dynamic content creation, GenAI, and other means of being effective at scale.
